Social Media and Its Effects

"We are all now connected by the internet, like neurons in a giant brain"

Honourable judges, teachers and my worthy opponents, thank you for giving me the opportunity to join this debate on the topic, "Social Media and Its Effects". I would like to speak in favour of the motion.

How many people do not have a smile on their faces on finding an old friend on Facebook? Well, social media has removed all the barriers and boundaries to communication by bringing the globe on a single platform. While business opportunities have widened, marketer's reach has broadened. It keeps us updated about everything going on in every nook and corner of the world on a real-time basis. From emergency alerts, announcements and declarations to knowing how our friends are doing has all become so convenient. It provides freedom of speech and thus, enables everyone to speak their mind. Not to forget the incalculable access it provides to the extensive information.

With so much advancement and innovation, it would be an unimaginable world without having social media in it. Someone has rightly put it into words by saying,

"Social media is addictive precisely because it gives us something what the real world lacks: it gives us immediacy, direction and a value as an individual."

Thank you.
