

Definition Essay on Friendship – Introduction, Benefits, and Qualities

Introduction:

- Friendship is an emotion of care, mutual trust, and fondness among two persons.
- A friend might be a work-mate, buddy, fellow student, or any individual with whom we feel an attachment.
- In friendship, people have a mutual exchange of sentiments and faith too.
- It does not matter that to which age group you belong, friendship can happen at any time of your life.

Benefits of Friendship:

Sometimes friendship is essential in our life. Below are a few benefits of friendship.

1. It's impossible to live your life alone always but friendship fills that gap quickly with the friend's company.
2. You can easily pass the rigidities of life with friends as in your distress period your friends are always there to help you.
3. Friendship teaches you how to remain happy in life.
4. In case of any confusion or problem, your friendship will always benefit you with good opinions.

True and Dishonest Friendship:

- True friendship is very rare in today's times. There are so many persons who support only those people who are in power so that they can fulfill their selfish motives below the name of friendship. They stay with friends till the time their selfish requirements are achieved.
- Dishonest friends leave people as soon as their power gets vanished. You can find these types of self-seeking friends all around the world who are quite hurtful than enemies.

- Finding a true friendship is very difficult. A true friend helps the other friend who is in need. It does not matter to him that his friend is right or wrong but he will always support his friend at the time of his difficulty.

Carefulness in the Selection of Friendship:

- You must be very careful while choosing friends. You should nurture your friendship with that person who does not leave you in your bad times easily.
- Friendship with a bad person also affects your own thoughts and habits. Therefore, a bad person should not be chosen in any type of circumstances. We must do friendship with full attention and carefulness.

Best Qualities of Good Friendship:

Good friendship provides people an enormous love for each other. Below are the important qualities of good friendship:

1. A good friendship is always faithful, honest, and truthful.
2. People pay attention and take note of other's thoughts in good friendship.
3. Persons quickly forget and let off the mistakes of the other friend. In fact, they accept their friend in the way they are actually.
4. You are not judged on the basis of your success, money, or power in it.
5. Friends do not feel shy to provide us with valuable opinions for our welfare.
6. People always share their joyful times with their good friends and also stay ready to help their friends in time of need.
7. True friends also support others in their professional as well as personal life. They encourage their friends in the area of their interest.

Conclusion:

Friendship is established over the sacrifice, love, faith, and concern of mutual benefit. True Friendship is a support and a blessing for everybody. All those males and females who have true and genuine friends are very lucky really.