

ILLUSTRATION ESSAY

(AKA, Example Essay)

RHETORICAL MODE:

- Reasons supported by specific, relevant examples.
- General examples supported by more specific examples.

WCE PREP:

- For the Writing Competency Exam, students are given a broad subject and must then narrow it to a focused topic.
- Next, students must concentrate that confined topic into a clear, concise Thesis Statement.
- In the essay, they must then develop that Thesis according to the accepted standards for the given rhetorical patterns – Illustration, Process, Classification, and Comparison/Contrast.
- Therefore, to prepare adequately for the WCE, we are going to use past WCE subjects for the subjects of our next three essays – Illustration, Process, and Classification.

SUBJECTS:

1. Choose one (1) of the following SUBJECTS that you must use for the Illustration Essay:
 - A. EDUCATION
 - B. WORK
 - C. TRAVEL – LEISURE
2. Next, place that subject into a statement that will serve as your OPENING GENERALIZATION in your Introduction paragraph. For example –
 - Education is a vital aspect of life.
 - Work is an essential part of adulthood.
 - Travel and Leisure have become necessary aspects of the well-balanced lifestyle.
3. Next, focus that broad subject into a narrow TOPIC. Below are some examples –
 - A. Education
 - Examples of ways people learn
 - Examples of changes you would make as school board director in your district
 - Examples of educational trips
 - B. Work
 - Examples of part-time jobs for your demographic
 - Examples of taxes that should be eliminated from your pay check and why
 - Examples in the workforce today
 - C. Travel and Leisure
 - Examples of vacations
 - Examples of changes in post-9/11 America
 - Examples of lessons learned from travel and leisure

* Another OPTION is to prove your statement from Step #2:

- Prove that Education is a vital aspect of life.
- Prove that Work is an essential part of adulthood.
- Prove that Leisure is a necessary aspect of a well-balanced lifestyle
 - Add 3 reasons to your statement to make it into a Thesis (“BECAUSE”).
 - Then in the Body of the essay support each reason with a specific example.

4. Next is to fashion a focused THESIS SENTENCE from your chosen topic.
- Topic + Main Idea + Support
 - Examples of educational trips include __, __, and __.
 - Education is a vital aspect of life because it __, __, and __.
5. With Topic, Thesis, and Opening Generalization now in hand, you are ready to pattern your Illustration Essay in accordance to the STRUCTURE discussed in the PowerPoint:

- TITLE
 - Topic + Main Idea
 - Examples of Educational Trips
 - Education Is a Vital Aspect of Life
- INTRODUCTION
 - start w/the Opening Generalization
 - end w/the Thesis Statement
- BODY 1
 - start w/a strong, clear Topic Sentence
 - use specific and relevant examples as support
 - name, explain, illustrate, reiterate
 - end w/a Clincher Sentence that repeats the paragraph's pt.
- BODY 2
 - follow the previous pattern
 - name, explain, illustrate, reiterate
- BODY 3
 - *this must be your most important/significant reason or example
 - "Emphatic order" = save the "best" for last & say so
 - follow the previous pattern - name, explain, illustrate, reiterate
- CONCLUSION
 - reiterate your Thesis and main points
 - "So What?!" – make an argument

Notice the capitalization

- "name" the reason
- Another example of an educational trip is __.
- Another reason education is a vital aspect of life is because __.

prompt as part of the OPENING GENERALIZATION	prompt as part of the THESIS
I. Introduction (ends w/Thesis) II. Example #1 III. Example #2 IV. Example #3 (best) V. Conclusion	I. Introduction (ends w/Thesis) II. Reason #1 III. Reason #2 IV. Reason #3 (best) V. Conclusion
*Use specific examples to support →	specific instances, specific people, specific events,...

EXAMPLES

- Illustrate the Prompt Intro: Since travel and leisure have become necessary aspects of the well-balanced lifestyle, people try to take vacations at least once a year. Some people go far away, travelling to foreign countries and exotic locales. Others may opt for some place local to get away from the everyday stresses of modern life. I certainly need to “get out of Dodge” every so often to keep my proverbial battery charged. Thus, I have been on some wonderful vacations over the year. Examples of the three most interesting vacations I have had are my trips to Antarctica, New Zealand, and Mars.
 - ❖ this could easily become the “examples of educational trips” given above
 - ❖ BODY PARAGRAPH STRUCTURE:
 - Name the example in a Topic Sentence.
 - One of the most interesting trips I have been on...
 - *Be specific in your illustration.
 - *Make sure the details you give match your theme: interesting OR educational
 - Reiterate the example in a Clincher Sentence.

- Prove the Prompt Intro: We live in a hypermodern world now in which everything streaks by at light speed. There hardly seems time to catch our breath on a given day, leaving us feeling exhausted, empty, and depressed. Sometimes it feels as if we are revving our engines so high that they will blow a gasket at any moment. However, I do believe that there is an antidote for the hypermodern blues: taking a vacation. In general, travel and leisure are important remedies for today’s high-speed culture. In particular, though, taking vacations has become a necessary aspect of the well-balanced lifestyle because it exposes us to new cultures, it reboots our family life, and it recharges our batteries for work.
 - ❖ BODY PARAGRAPH STRUCTURE:
 - Name the reason in a Topic Sentence.
 - One reason vacations are necessary today is ...
 - Explain or clarify the reason.
 - In other words ...
 - That is to say...
 - Illustrate* it with a specific example.
 - For example, one time I....
 - Reiterate the reason in a Clincher Sentence.
 - Thus, one significant reason vacations are a vital aspect of a well-balanced lifestyle is